

BRADY HOPES TO STOP THE SPAVINAW BONDS

Representing Anti-Politician Who Always Is Against Everything Institutes Action in Courts.

TALKS ABOUT INDEBTEDNESS

Claims 1918 Assessment Is Basis for Figuring Percentage of 5 Per Cent Which City Is Allowed.

W. T. Brady, local politician, acted as agent for the opponents of the $100,000 water bond issue passed July 10, instituted injunction proceedings in the district court yesterday to prevent the approval of any sale of the Spavinaw bonds. Brady's action was an attempt on the part of the courts to keep Tulsa on bonded water and the Arkansas River.

Brady set forth a half dozen reasons why he believed the bond issue invalid in his suit against Mayor C. H. Hubbard and the city commissioners, asking that the court permanently enjoin the sale of the bonds or declare the election illegal. These places in the petition state that under the state law cities of the first class cannot bond themselves for more than 5 per cent of its assessed value, and that the $5,000,000 issue violates that law, as the valuation of the city is only $39,887,753. Brady claims that as the election was held on July 10 before the state equalization board has made final valuation of the city's property, one valuation for 1918 must be used, as being in effect when the bonds were passed.

The petition also claims that the proclamation issued by Mayor Hubbard on June 6, 1918, calling for a home election does not specify the amount of indebtedness which the city would incur nor the cost of the waterworks nor the cost of acquiring the land and building the project, but instead he incurred indebtedness by proclamation and ordinance substituting an entire and additional assessment for all indebtedness of $1,000,000 for all purposes jointly. Brady claims that neither the proclamation, the ordinance for the millots carried the denunciation of the bonds, the interest to be paid nor the time of payment.

REID DISMISSED WHEN HE SURRENDERS GIRL

Agreeing to allow his 13-year-old daughter to remain a ward of the county court, under which jurisdiction she has been held since June 19 when she made charges of a serious nature against her father, W. E. Reid was dismissed from the custody of the court by Justice R. C. Maxey Tuesday afternoon, and the girl, Alberta, placed in charge of the county business office.

The daughter, at the preliminary hearing of her father before Justice Maxey, testified that she had brought her from Oklahoma City to Tulsa, and that the two lived for a few days at a local hotel. It was while in an intoxicated condition, according to the girl's story, that her father returned to the hotel room and attempted criminal assault. Reid denied the charges, alibiing he was unable to find through inquiries of other relatives. The daughter will be placed in a home in this city, according to plans made by the humane office.

ALL SERENE IN STREET CAR EXTENSION FIGHT

All objections to the extension of the North Main street car line on Cheyenne street were withdrawn yesterday after assurances were given by Morris McGrath, superintendent of the Tulsa Street Railway company, that the company will extend the line with the paving and that only one track will be laid until the street is widened. Taxpayers on Cheyenne street said that they had been misinformed about the extension and had been led to believe that the car company would extend his track through the narrow street. McGrath said that work would begin just as soon as the contract for paving was amended to take in the widening of the street from 28 to 32 feet. A petition from residents on North Cheyenne asking for the widening of the street was filed with the board of commissioners yesterday.

REEDER ASKS FUNDS FOR COUNTY HEALTH

Six Thousand Dollars Needed to Carry on Work of Medical Department

Dr. C. L. Heeder, superintendent of the Tulsa county board of health, has asked the county board of commissioners for $6,000 for the fiscal year to carry on the present plan of health supervision. The proposition was submitted Monday but will not be acted on until the board reconsiders the budget placed at $38,000, more than the law will allow even though the valuation of all property in the county reaches $10,000,000 as of 1918.

Doctor Heeder urged the establishment of a birth and death record for the county, as only the Tulsa district's births and deaths are being recorded at present. He also brought to the attention of the board the need for $3,000 as the county's share of supporting the health clinic in the federal building conducted by the United States government, the city of Tulsa and the county at an estimated expense of $10,000 for the fiscal year. He explained that in maintaining the clinic the county would save a large amount of money through the betterment of medical and sanitary inspection in the county.

"Oh, Charley, have you half a minute to spare?"
"Yes. But only half a minute, my dear."

"Well, I only want you to explain to me exactly what's meant by the covenant of the league of nations."

Compare the Work

If YOU compare the work done by all the different typewriters, then YOU, too, will surely choose the "ROYAL."

It is truly the Typewriter of Big Business today.

The largest Insurance Companies, the largest Banks and Trust Companies and the largest Industrial Institutions are using the "ROYAL" Typewriter.

And this, for the sole reason that it will produce more work, better work and more different kinds of work than any other typewriter.

Judge Fines Sperry Man Because He Had Very, Very Poor Eyes

A. A. Wilson, a farmer from Sperry, had bad eyesight and got into trouble through his eyes five days after he arrived in Tulsa Monday night. He went to a rooming house on North Main street and had been there about three minutes, he said, in the municipal court yesterday, when the door opened and City Detective Jim Paxton walked in.

Sitting on the dresser was a bottle of whisky which Wilson says he had been buying and which he had been left in the room by the man who had the room before he came. He didn't even see it then until Paxton picked it up. Wilson was holding a glass in his hand, getting ready to take a drink of water and had no idea of drinking from the bottle.

Judge Warren gave him $10 and costs for overlooking a good bar.

COMMUNITY SERVICE FOR NEGRO TROOPS

Y. M. C. A. Secretary Who Served Overseas Is in Tulsa to Arrange for Information Branch.

Professor J. Tyler of Washington, D. C., Y. M. C. A. secretary for negro troops during the war, arrived in Tulsa Tuesday and will establish here a rear camp community service for negro service men.

For the present Secretary Tyler has temporary offices at the Stratfield Hotel, and is awaiting the arrival of Executive Secretary Shook and District Secretary Givens, white organizers of the war camp community service, who will assist him in establishing the camp here.

A committee composed of the representative colored citizens of Tulsa, of which Attorney F. L. Douglas is chairman, A. J. Smitherman, H. A. Guess, J. Goodwin, Professor Smith, Dr. Dickens, T. Preseley are members, has been appointed by Secretary Tyler to permanently aid in the management of the service.

"While the negro soldiers inducted into the service from Tulsa recently have received no official letters, there is not sufficient number to justify the establishment of a permanent organization," said Secretary Tyler last evening. "All are enthusiastic over the idea, and Tulsa needs to have the permanent headquarters for the state camp at this point," he continued.

Secretary Tyler accompanied troupe overseas and returned with ex-soldiers during the first few months of the war and was stationed at Camp Travis and Bowie in Texas until just recently, where he was head of the Y. M. C. A. organization for the negro troops.

Mrs. Malcolm—"She's always talking gossip."

Mrs. San Lazaro—"Yes, and it's usually about someone you don't know."
